Position Title

Assistant University Extension Educator for Sustainable Management of Rangeland Resources, Crook County, Sundance, WY. Position #1675.

Level & Salary

Assistant University Extension Educator – salary level commensurate with education, experience and availability of funds.

Location Description

The areas of responsibility for this position are Sheridan, Johnson, Campbell, Crook, and Weston Counties in northeastern Wyoming. Sundance, Wyoming, the Crook County seat, lies at the foot of the Sundance Mountain in the Black Hills National Forest. This area of Wyoming is said to be “a land rich in history, wildlife, minerals, national forest, ranching and friendly people.” Crook County is home to many points of interest, specifically, Devils Tower National Monument (America’s very first national monument), Vore Buffalo Jump, and the Crook County Museum which displays original “Sundance Kid” memorabilia. Crook County is populated by approximately 7,184 residents, with roughly 1,200 living in Sundance. Major industries in the county are ranching, forest products, oil production, and tourism. Recreational activities for hunting, fishing, snowmobiling, cross country skiing, and hiking are abundant.

Nature & Purpose

This position provides educational outreach on the general topics of rangeland ecology, management, and monitoring. Training and/or experience in public land management issues and policies; livestock grazing management; wildlife habitat management and assessment; management of invasive species; and rangeland monitoring/assessment will be important credentials.
